

Warming Wine to Serving Temperature

If your wine is best consumed after breathing, open the bottle in your wine cellar, then bring it out of the cellar with just enough time to reach serving temperature.

For example, if your particular wine is best consumed after breathing 2 hours, but takes just ½ hour to reach optimal serving temperature, keep the open bottle in your cellar 1½ hours and bring it to the serving area ½ hour before drinking it.

